

WHERE CAN I GET EMERGENCY FOOD IN GEELONG

As at 8 October 2020

We know that the Covid-19 pandemic is creating added stress for many who need emergency food relief across the Geelong region.

There are many organisations that provide food assistance in the local Geelong region. Some however, have made changes to their services due to the restrictions and health and safety issues associated with the Covid-19 pandemic.

Below is current information regarding who, how, when and where food assistance is currently available across the Geelong region.

Due to changing conditions, restrictions and your health and safety we encourage you to call ahead before going out to access emergency food relief or to opt for contactless delivery if available.

The Victorian State Government announced a new effort to provide emergency relief packages for vulnerable Victorians needing to self-quarantine due to coronavirus (Covid-19). If you require an emergency relief package you can call the Government Coronavirus Hotline on 1800 675 398 or visit HERE to learn more.
